sioners on the first and second Wednesdays of this month.

The Farmers' Association of East Arlington will meet at the residence of Mr. Henry Northern on Thursday, the 12th day of the present month.

The frosts of last week, which are reported as having done so much damage in various parts of the country, did little or no injury in this county.

Dr. A. B. Spinney of Detroit will deliver a lecture at Longwell's Opera house, Sunday evening, June 8th. Subject, "Scientific proofs

Dr. Andrews is in attendance at the Chicago convention, as a delegate from the 4th congressional district. The Dr. is a Blaine man with a strong leaning to Lincoln for second choice.

The NORTHERNER is under obligations to Hon. E. W. Keightley for a copy of the report of the committee on Foreign Relations, showing the different foreign tariffs. It is a valuable book of reference.

The process of gravelling north Kalamazoo street has been begun and will be continued until it is gravelled throughout its entire length. A stone culvert will be put across the street at the ravine near the north line of the corporation.

Mr. W. W. Shilling, who is a delegate to the Chicago convention, was in town visiting Mrs. Shilling, his mother. Mrs. F. W.
Eames of Watertown, N. Y., is also visiting at the same place.

Rev. G. P. Linderman, in a letter renewing his subscription to the NORTHERNER, says he has accepted a call to preach at Lakewood, Susquehanna Co., Pa. The many friends of the Elder and his wife in this vicinity will regret to learn that Mrs. Linderman is very feeble.

Warren A. Drury, postmaster of the General Assembly, at Albany, N. Y., a half brother of Sheriff Van Auker, spent last Sunday in this village. Mr. Drury was on his way to the Chicago convention. He is an enthusiastic Blaine man, and thinks Blaine will be the nominee, that he will carry New York, and will be the next president.

The supreme court convened on Tuesday last. The following cases from this county are on the docket: William Warner vs. Helen Warner, No. 21; Orrin N. Hilton as Judge of Probate vs. Emory O. Briggs, administrator etc., No. 24, and the Van Buren Div. of the T. & S. H. R. Co. vs. Truman Lamphear et al., No. 49.

Mr. Orno Strong, proprietor of the Nashville (Berry Co.) News, on Thursday last shot Dr. L. A. Foote, the shot taking effect in the Dr's left leg. The wound is not considered dangerous. Strong was arrested, waived examination and gave bail. He alleges that Foote has been too intimate with Mrs. Strong, which the Dr. denies. A good many of our readers will remember Mr.
Strong as the editor of the Lawton Tribune.

Dr. H. C. Clapp of Mendon, a brother of our townsman J. T., was burglarized on the 29th ult. The rascals obtained a gentleman's gold watch and chain, with a harp charm interwoven with a lady's gold watch and chain with a heart-shaped charm, a gold locket with the Dr's photograph, nearly $100 in cash, a gold pin in the form of a slipper, and a silver filigree chain and locket, containing a lock of dark hair. The Dr. offers $75 reward for the apprehension and conviction of the villains.

Died, at the residence of Mr. S. Consolis in this township, on the 28th of last month, Dr. A. Bridges, of rheumatism of the heart.
The deceased was a brother of Mrs. Consolis and had been with her for several weeks.
He resided at Laporte, Ind., where his remains were taken for burial. He was a consistent christian, and a member of the Presbyterian church. He was buried on decoration day, and, having been a soldier, his grave was beautifully decorated, with those of other deceased comrades. Mr. Bridges was born in Otsego county, N. Y., in February 1827.

The monthly union temperance meeting was held at the Disciple church last Sunday evening and was largely attended, the house being filled. The address was delivered by Rev. A. N. Alcott of Kalamazoo. The speaker's subject was "Personal Liberty" and the lecture was an able exposition of that question from a prohibition stand point, and was just the kind of a talk calculated to do good and aid the temperance cause, which is more than can be truthfully said of some temperance talk which has been addressed to the people of this village on different occasions.
Bulldozing and boycotting are not very efficient weapons to use in aid of any great moral reformation.

Married On The Stage.

On Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings of last week, Harry M. Markham, the comedian, and his troupe played at Long-well's Opera house in this village to light audiences. Mr. Markham is a good actor and is accompanied by a first-class troupe, and some of our theater-goers thought the patronage which he had received was not such as the company merited, and suggested that if they would remain until Tuesday evening a special effort might be made to give Manager Markham a benefit. This suggestion was adopted, other engagements canceled, and on Tuesday evening the company presented the new comedy entitled "Salomon Isaac" to a large and appreciative audience. The course of the play was varied by a scene between the acts, not contemplated by the author of the play, which was the marriage of Mr.
Markham to the leading lady Miss Stella Leland. The marriage ceremony took place on the stage and was performed by O. W.
Rowland, Esq., and constituted a part of the manager's benefit. That it may prove a substantial and lasting benefit to both parties is the sincere wish of the NORTHERNER, as well as of a large number of friends of the high contracting parties, in this place. May the husband always have "a boys like a beagle" for the happiness and comfort of his wife, and may the wife be "blind" only to the imperfections and short-comings of her husband.

Orange Blossoms.

An event of much interest to the society people of this village occurred last Wednesday morning, May 28th, being the wedding of Mr. Dwight A. Harrison of Lansing, and Miss Bertha G. Longwell, the only daughter of Geo. W. Longwell, one of the old and most influential residents of the village.
Both of the principal parties in the affair are well and widely known, and the recent announcement of their approaching nuptials spread quite a ripple on the surface of the usually placid waters of society. Extensive preparations were made by the friends of the betrothed to make the wedding a recherche affair, and in this they were successful.

At half past eight the commodious residence of the bride's parents was filled with a large company of guests, and at a quarter to nine as Miss Minnie Hodges played the wedding march the bridal party entered the parlors. First came the officiating clergyman, Rev. W. C. Burns, then Mr. John L.
Simpson and Miss Ella Rice of Detroit, Mr.
Edgar Longwell and Miss Hattie Butler, Mr.
D. A. Harrison, the groom, and the bride's mother, followed by the bride and her father.

After arranging themselves in proper form underneath an elegant floral monogram and horse-shoe, the Rev. Mr. Burns in a beautiful and imposing service declared them husband and wife. Immediately after the ceremony and congratulations, the company partook of a very elaborate and sumptuous repast. Among the guests present the following is a partial list of those from abroad:
Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kelly of Cadillac, Mrs.
Emma Thomas, Miss Ella Rice, Mr. J. L.
Simpson and W. M. Worcester of Detroit, Mr. and Mrs. F. D. Ward and Mrs. Dora Van Hise of Chicago, Mr. and Mrs. Ashby of Kalamazoo, Mr. and Mrs. Johnson and daughter of Lawton, Will Longwell of Deer Lake.

The presents which were very numerous and handsome were exhibited in one of the adjacent rooms. They were as follows: The groom, a pair of solid gold bracelets set with pearls; Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Longwell, $100 in gold, large Turkey morocco Bible, one doz. napkins and the cabinets of the bride's father and mother handsomely framed; Ed.
Longwell and Hattie Butler, a plush jewel case; Harry Longwell and Mabel Neff, gold watch chain; Geo. Longwell, Jr., silver card receiver; Miss Ella Rice, Detroit, silver card receiver; Mrs. Thomas, Detroit, hand-painted plush framed plaque; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kelly, Cadillac, ebony music rack; Will and Anna Rice, Detroit, napkin rings; Mr. and Mrs. Seward Hawkins, Paw Paw, silver fruit knives and one doz. napkin plates; Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Hawkins, Paw Paw, pair of napkin rings; Mrs. Van Hise and W. H. Johnston, Chicago, silver nut dish; Mr. and Mrs.
G. D. Johnson and daughter, Lawton, cane-rocker; Mr. and Mrs. Richard P. Williams, Detroit, solid silver cake knife; the firm of Ferrand, Williams &
